

From: KennedyK@cbsnews.com
Sent: 3/9/2012 11:34:01 AM
To: "Betsaida Alcantara" <Alcantara.Betsaida@epamail.epa.gov>; "Michael Kulik" <Kulik.Michael@epamail.epa.gov>
CC:
Subject: RE: hello there

Ok, is there anything reportable? Basically is the aquifer contaminated with anything beyond methane, is it connected to drilling
I'll bet it's not that simple, but if you have anything, I'm interested, thanks.

-----Original Message-----

From: Betsaida Alcantara [mailto:Alcantara.Betsaida@epamail.epa.gov]
Sent: Friday, March 09, 2012 11:31 AM
To: Kennedy, Kim; Michael Kulik
Subject: Re: hello there

Hi Kim,
Mick can send you our latest statement on this. The region is getting ready to start notifications, but not this week.

Betsaida Alcantara
Press Secretary
US Environmental Protection Agency
202-564-1692
alcantara.betsaida@epa.gov

From: "Kennedy, Kim" <KennedyK@cbsnews.com>
To: Betsaida Alcantara/DC/USEPA/US@EPA
Date: 03/09/2012 11:29 AM
Subject: hello there

I heard the Dimock water tests were due this week. Is that true?

Kim Kennedy | Coordinating Producer | CBS Evening News Weekend Edition |

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy